

Date: September 19th, 2015

Topic: General concept of what the website for the Latham Fire Department should be.

- Commanding officer, or anyone with administrative powers, should be able to log in to the website, in order to load firefighters into their respective trucks
- Wants the firefighters to be separated by certifications (listed below). If a person has multiple certifications the website should remove their name from ALL lists in order to not put the same person in the firetrucks twice (i.e. has the system update when a person is chosen for the firetrucks)
- Learned the types of different certifications that firefighters can be qualified for
  - EMS
  - Interior Firefighter
  - Herse Tools (i.e. Jaws of Life)
  - Confined Special Rescue
  - Hazardous Material Training
  - Driver
  - Pump Operator
- Received a very brief layout on how a basic firetruck should be loaded
  - One firefighter certified to drive
  - One commanding officer sitting up front next to driver
  - At least four firefighters in the back (it is dependent on the type of firetruck)