By: Paul Borchers

Members in attendance: Ryan Rose, Paul Borchers, and Ryan May

In today's team meeting, the following issues were discussed:

- Modified prototype for client meeting.
- Excel output from php.

Paul Borchers and Ryan May handed Ryan Rose the modified prototype to show the clients how our interactive pages are going to work where a page can change without having to reload the entire web page using Ajax and JavaScript. Paul Borchers notified Ryan Rose that there are several open source options available to output an excel file from a sql database that use php. Ryan May and Paul Borchers were reminded that they need to schedule a meeting with Dr. Lim to discuss the database design and implementation in further detail.

All matters were discussed and there were no further questions so Ryan Rose closed the meeting at 1:00pm.
